We have been sourcing Syrah from the Summit View Vineyard (planted in 2009 by Tom Waliser) in Milton-Freewater, Oregon since 2013, and made it a single-vineyard designate wine with the 2015 vintage.

Because the Willamette Valley's growing season and weather isn't always favorable for the production of a consistently high-quality Syrah, we chose to source from the Walla Walla Valley AVA, but on the Oregon side—in keeping with our desire to produce 100% Oregon wines. Both temperatures and rainfall at this site are very consistent, with annual growing degree days for the site averaging between 3,000-3,300, and annual precipitation averaging 6-8 inches.

We also like this vineyard source because it sits at one of the highest elevations in the Milton-Freewater area: 1,150 feet. That—in conjunction with its well-drained, glacial, Ellisford Silt Loam soil—produces full-bodied fruit with concentrated flavors and vibrant acidity.

As for winemaking technique, we make this Syrah following the same methodology as our Pinot noirs, yielding a wine that is lighter on the palate with vibrant fruit and soft tannins.

BELLS UP
WINERY

Micro-boutique, un-domaine and always open by reservation, Bells Up Winery composes handcrafted, classically styled Oregon Pinot noir with grapes sourced primarily from our estate and other micro-growers in the northern Willamette Valley.

Established in 2013, our first wines were released Memorial Day 2015. We make approximately 500 cases annually, including a small selection of other Oregon-grown varietals.

The 9-acre estate vineyard in the Chehalem Mountains AVA, just north of Newberg, is being planted in phases. Three acres of Pommard and Clone 667 were planted spring 2014; the Willamette Valley's first planting of a 0.5-acre of Seyval Blanc in spring 2015; and 2.5 acres of Wadenswil, 113 and 943 planted in spring 2016. The first estate harvest occurred in fall 2017. In fall 2020 the Seyval Blanc block was expanded and an obscure Northern Italian varietal added in a new block.

The name "Bells Up" refers to a dramatic moment in a classical music score instructing French horn players to raise the bells of their instruments and project sound with maximum intensity. Winemaker and owner Dave Specter—a French horn player for 20+ years—calls the winery his "Bells Up" moment.
